I lost 500–1,000 works in the 2000s. Water pipes broke in storage, then bed bugs. Everything in that space had to be discarded. No catalog, no images, no list — just memory. The archive I just published exists in part because of that loss. 1,084 works from 1974 to now, every piece documented, the pipeline open source. If you're an artist with work in storage you haven't catalogued: this is the message. Not be careful. Be early.

Christine Wellman · 1st

Experienced Marketing & Communications Professional

July 25, 2013, Christine worked with Jeffrey on the same team

I worked with Jeff on several projects while consulting with OEConnection. I found him to be very creative, knowledgeable and quite easy-going. He consistently developed eye-catching graphics that helped further the marketing message.
